Who wants to be an exhibitionist ? Posted by SvoChuck - 18 Apr 2008 10:43
Get ready Race Fans! We are going into the heart of knuckle draggers! For some FREE racing! I'm still working on the details but plan on it being a sponsor paying, NASA race for 944-SPEC! We will also be able to show off the cars to all of the crowd before and after the nights races.
So get out those mud flaps and mullet wigs . It's going to be FUN!

More details to come, and YES I am working this for Colorado National Speedway also.
This will also really help on sponsor search due to the number of fans that will see our cars!

stop the madness! you can throw a stone from one side of that track to the other. the infield course is a figure 8. what's next, Chuck - run 'em backwards in the mud with tractor exhaust straight through the hood for demolition derby at the county fair!?!?!?! oh, the humanity!
Phil - don't give the knuckle-draggers any ideas!

we will also put on a small car show in support of NASA so even if you don't race that night please make plans to help us support NASA.
Thanks
Yep - I probably won't race at this one, but I'd be up for coming down to spectate/help out/feed my inner redneck/etc.
Should be some good old-fashioned Saturday night short-track fun!
